CASUALTY, SURETY AND MISCELLANEOUS INSURANCE IN THE UNITED STATES

DEVELOPMENT AND STATISTICS OF THE BUSINESS—LAWS RELATING TO THE SAME—DESCRIPTION OF FORMS OF POLICIES—LAWFUL RESERVES REQUIRED, ETC.

Twenty years ago the total net premiums of casualty companies operating in the United States amounted to a trifle over $27,000,000, and on December 31, 1900, there were $65,807,946 of assets; but fifty-seven companies were actively or extensively engaged in the business at that time. No branch of the insurance business has developed so rapidly or so variegated its protecting arm within these years as the companies transacting casualty business. While on December 31 last there were over 200 companies transacting one or more of the various classes of business, 160 of the principal companies wrote during the year 1920 $438,328,599 of premiums, and paid $188,806,845 of losses, and had on December 31, 1920, assets amounting to $1,640,202,512. Such a growth is fairly astounding! It would seem to show that profits derived from this class of business should be enormous to justify the financing of so many new companies for the carrying on of pioneer work. Strangely enough, during the twenty years the underwriting profit for the leading companies has been negligible, averaging but .5 per cent of the earned premiums. We are submitting herewith a table showing the underwriting and investment profits and losses of 100 leading casualty and miscellaneous companies for 1920. The table shows that during the year the companies had a combined underwriting income of $386,871,317, while the total underwriting losses and expenses incurred amounted to $386,157,022, leaving a profit on the underwriting transactions of $714,295, yielding a ridiculously small ratio of .2 per cent as profit for 1920. Were it not for the fact that there is business acumen displayed in the financial and business management of these stock casualty companies, the people of the United States would keenly feel the loss of the protection afforded by these companies, for no one would undertake the risk involved in such a business for such a small margin of profits. The investment income was $13,579,399, while the dividends incurred to stockholders and policyholders amounted to $7,194,798. There was an increase of $2,023,770 in special reserves, etc. The increase in surplus for the further protection of policyholders amounted to $5,075,126. Of the one hundred companies transacting the various classes of casualty insurance but forty-seven were able to show an underwriting profit during 1920. The largest profit realized by any company was 40.8 per cent, while the largest loss suffered was 117.8 per cent.

While there are about fifty different kinds of casualty insurance, the principal departments are workmen's compensation, liability, accident, surety, auto and teams property damage, fidelity, burglary, health, plate glass and steam boiler insurance, and rank in point of premium income in the order listed.

For purposes of comparison the companies are grouped in the table according to the general or predominating class of business which each transacts, and separate totals are given for each of these groups. The table shows that eighty-two casualty companies had an underwriting income earned of $341,374,736, which yielded a profit of .4 per cent. The

* Underwriting income earned.

Given fidelity and surety companies, upon underwriting income earned of $33,293,956, had a loss of 1.0 per cent; the four plate glass companies, with $5,495,417 of income, showed a loss of 10.5 per cent, while the miscellaneous companies, seven in number, had an underwriting income earned of $6,707,208, with a profit of 1.0 per cent. The miscellaneous group contains one credit company, with a loss of 5.1 per cent; a steam boiler company with a loss of 4.2 per cent; a medical protective company which made 3.0 per cent, and four other companies, namely, one title company, one livestock, one automobile and one innuinity company.

In a supplementary summary shown herewith, totals and averages for eighteen years are given, together with the results of transactions of the companies year by year. This shows that for the eighteen years the companies listed had an underwriting income of $354,948,744, on which the net underwriting profit amounted to $12,806,996, which was a profit of .5 per cent. The average number of companies for the eighteen years shown was sixty-three.

It might be well for the insured when complaining about the payment of premium for this or that protection, for most of us complain as we pay out money, to consider the facts as set forth in the accompanying table, demonstrating that the casualty business, considering the one hundred leading companies together, barely make a profit.

NEW LEGISLATION.

The State of Georgia enacted a Workmen's Compensation Law in 1920, which, however, did not become effective until March 1, 1921. This law is elective in character as respects private employers, but compulsory as respects municipalities and other political subdivisions of the State.

Private employers who regularly employ ten or more employees within the State are within the purview of the law. It, however, does not affect employees of public utilities, casual employees, farm laborers or domestic servants. The law applies to injuries sustained outside of the State if the contract of hire was made within the State provided the employer's place of business is in the State or if the employee lives within the State, unless the contract was made for service exclusively outside of the State.

No compensation is payable for the first fourteen days of incapacity. Compensation begins on the fifteenth day of disability, but if incapacity continues for more than four weeks after injury, compensation is then allowed from the date of injury.

The employer must furnish such medical attention as the nature of the case may require, during thirty days after the accident, maximum liability of the employer for such medical attention being $100, continuation of medical attention beyond the first thirty days optional with the employer.

For total disability the law provides one-half of average weekly wages, maximum $12, minimum $6 weekly, not to exceed 350 weeks, the maximum amount payable in any case of total disability being $4000. In case of death from cause other than injury, liability for compensation ceases.

For partial disability the law provides one-half of average weekly wage loss, maximum $12 weekly, maximum period 300 weeks from date of injury, including period of total disability, if any. A specific schedule, 50 per cent of average weekly wages, maximum $12, minimum $6 weekly, is provided for periods specified ranging from 15 to 200 weeks in lieu of all other payments. The maximum amount payable for all disabilities is $4000.

If death results proximately from accident during the period of disability, the expenses of last sickness and burial, maximum $100, is payable, and in addition total dependents are to receive 50 per cent of average weekly wages, maximum $10, minimum $5 weekly, during dependency, maximum period 300 weeks after injury, maximum amount $4000. To partial dependents such proportion of foregoing as amount contributed by the deceased to their support to total dependency at time of injury.

Employers accepting the act are required to fully insure in some authorized corporation or association or to furnish the Commission with proof of financial responsibility with deposit of bond or other security if requested by the Commission. Membership in a duly authorized mutual company or reciprocal or any insurance association is satisfactory proof of financial liability.

Policy forms are subject to the approval by the Commission and must stipulate that notice to the insured is notice to the insurer, that the insurer is directly liable to the employee and that the employer's default does not discharge the insurer.

Premium rates must be fair, reasonable and adequate with due allowance for mortality and discrimination is forbidden. The basic rates of all insurance carriers must be filed with and approved by the Insurance Department.

Minnesota by the enactment of Chapter 82, Laws of 1921, repealed its existing Workmen's Compensation Law and substituted an entirely new law, which was immediately amended by Chapter 423 and supplemented by Chapter 26, Laws of 1921.

The new law is elective, the acceptance of the employer being presumed in the absence of notice to the contrary posted at his place of business and duplicate filed with the Commission at the time of hiring or thirty days prior to any accident. The employee's acceptance is presumed in the absence of similar notice given to the employer and duplicate with affidavit of service filed with the Commission at the time of hiring or thirty days prior to accident.

The law applies to all public employment, except certain officials and all private employment, except casual and not in usual course of employer's trade or business and common carriers by steam railroad, domestic servants and farm laborers, but farm labor may be brought under the act by joint affirmative election.

The law apparently does not have specific extra-territorial effect. Personal injuries arising out of and in the course of employment, unless intentionally self-inflicted or proximately due to intoxication or to act of a third person or fellow employee for personal reasons, come within the law. Twenty-three occupational diseases enumerated in the law are also included under specified conditions.

In cases of temporary disability no compensation is allowed for the first week after disability commences, but if disability continues for four weeks or longer, compensation is to be computed from commencement of disability.

The employer must furnish medical aid, including crutches, artificial members and apparatus as reasonably necessary for a period not to exceed ninety days, the maximum liability in this respect being $100, unless the Commission orders further expenditure from the part of the employer.

For total disability, if temporary, the law provides payment of 66 2/3 per cent of average wages, maximum $18, minimum $8, or full wages weekly, maximum period 300 weeks. If permanent, payments upon the same scale during disability, maximum amount $10,000. Certain severe injuries are deemed to constitute total disability, and if the injured employee

Employee becomes an inmate of a public institution, compensation is payable to his dependents, if any.

For partial disability the law provides payment of 66% per cent of loss in earning power, maximum $18 weekly, maximum period 300 weeks. For permanent disability from loss of member, same rate of payment during healing period, maximum 15 weeks, unless extended by the Commission for not to exceed 10 weeks additional, and thereafter 66% per cent of daily wages, maximum $18, minimum $8 weekly, for specified period ranging from 5 to 400 weeks. Additional compensation during period of retraining for new occupation if so ordered by the Commission, 66 2/3 per cent of daily wages, maximum 25 weeks, if period of regular compensation is at least 75 weeks.

If death results proximately from injury, from 30 to 66% per cent of daily wages computed on basis of number of kinship. For dependency, maximum $18, minimum $8, or full wages (or in case of partial dependents, full amount of their income loss), weekly amount, maximum $7500 as to wife, child or orphan, maximum 300 weeks; as to other dependents, all disability payments previously made, if any, to be deducted from such compensation for death. In all cases, expenses of burial, maximum $150, unless insurer of deceased or benefit association is liable therefor. Compensation to beneficiary ceases upon death or marriage, except that widow is entitled to lump sum upon remarriage, if there are no children, otherwise balance of her compensation passes to children.

In March, 1921, the Legislature of Missouri enacted a second Workmen's Compensation Law to become effective September 1, 1921, the law previously enacted having been declared not adopted by a referendum vote. This second compensation law is, however, likely to be defeated because referendum petitions have been filed.

The act of 1921 is identical in many of its features with the act of 1919, the principal feature of the new law being a provision for a State fund.

The law is elective, acceptance being presumed in the absence of notice to the contrary, and it covers all private employments where five or more are regularly employed, except farm labor, domestic servants, family chauffeurs and casual workers not incidental to the employer's business, outworkers and employees earning over $3,600 annually.

It applies to injuries received outside the State under contracts of employment made in the State, unless the contract otherwise provides.

It covers personal injuries by accident arising out of and in the course of employment, and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom, unless self-inflicted.

The following schedule of compensations is provided in the law:—If total disability is temporary, 66% per cent of average earnings, maximum $20, minimum $6, or full wages weekly, maximum period 400 weeks. If total disability is permanent, the same rate of payment for 240 weeks and thereafter 50 per cent of average annual earnings for life, maximum $20, minimum $6 weekly.

In cases of partial disability, if temporary, 66% per cent of loss in earning power is to be paid, maximum $20 weekly, maximum period 200 weeks. Schedule for specified injuries 66 2/3 per cent of average earnings, maximum $20, minimum $6 weekly for periods ranging from 6 to 220 weeks, in addition to all other compensation. For permanent injuries not specified, compensation based on specific schedule, maximum period 400 weeks.

If death results from accident within 350 weeks, in all cases reasonable expense of last sickness, maximum $250, and of burial expense, maximum $150. In addition, to total dependents, two-thirds of average earnings for year preceding injury, maximum $20, minimum $6 weekly, maximum period 300 weeks less period of disability payments, if any. For partial dependents, compensation based on foregoing rate, in proportion to decedent's contribution to their support at time of injury.

No compensation is payable for the first seven days of disability, unless disability lasts longer than four weeks.

Medical, surgical and hospital treatment, including nursing, ambulance and medicines, reasonably required for first sixty days after injury or disability; maximum of $250 is, however, provided with respect to all injuries.

Employers* accepting the provisions of the compensation act must either insure their entire liability with the State Fund or other authorized insurance carrier or satisfy the Commission of their ability to carry their own risks. In the latter event, the Commission must require security upon application of any person entitled to compensation and proof of employer's default in payment. Mine operators need insure only to the extent of their maximum liability for ten deaths in any one accident.

If an employer is insured, his insurer is primarily and directly liable for compensation and the employer's liability is secondary and indirect. Policies covering employers must be approved as to form by the Superintendent of Insurance and must contain an agreement that the insurer accepts all provisions of the act.

The Missouri compensation insurance fund is created by the act, to be administered by a Commission, which is to be competitive and self-supporting and without liability on the part of the State.

Insurance rates must be fair, reasonable and adequate with due allowance for merit rating, all of which are subject to the approval of the Insurance Department.

STANDARD MANUAL OF WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION RULES AND RATES

The manual in common use among insurance carriers writing Workmen's Compensation insurance in this country was originally the product of the National Workmen's Compensation Service Bureau made up of some twenty joint stock casualty insurance companies. The Service Bureau revised its manual twice, basing its revision upon the latest available experience contributed by the member companies.

In 1920 the National Council on Workmen's Compensation Insurance, which was organized in June, 1919, began a study of still later experience for the purpose of a third revision in the workmen's compensation rates, the National Council having taken over from the Service Bureau the function of compensation rate-making.

The work of revision carried on by the National Council on Workmen's Compensation Insurance throughout the year 1920 was completed early in 1921 and a thoroughly revised manual was issued, which is now the standard authority on workmen's compensation rules and rates, with the exception that a separate manual has been issued by the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau for use in the State of Pennsylvania.

In 1918 a committee of underwriters appointed by the Compensation Rating Inspection Board of New York, prepared a standard form of Workmen's Compensation Policy with a view to its universal adoption and use, by attachment of appropriate State riders or endorsements, which policy form was duly approved by the Insurance Department of New York and by the Industrial Commission, and it has since been approved by the following states: Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Vermont, Wisconsin. The application for the approval of this policy form is pending in Colorado, Maryland, Missouri and Massachusetts.

The policy referred to is known as the Universal Standard Workmen's Compensation Policy, and the complete policy with the endorsement approved for use in New York will be presented in this section.

In addition to the Workmen's Compensation Policy, casualty companies issue policies covering manufacturers' employers' liability, manufacturers' public liability, contractors' employers' liability, contractors' public liability, owners', landlords' and tenants' liability, teams' or vehicle liability, automobile liability, with or without collision and property damage liability, elevator liability, vessel employers' liability and vessel public liability, owners' protective or contingent liability, contractors' protective or contingent liability and theater liability.

UNIVERSAL STANDARD WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION POLICY

The Company does hereby agree with this Employer, named and described as such in the declarations forming a part hereof, as respects personal injuries sustained by employees, including death at any time resulting therefrom, as follows:

One (a)—To Pay Promptly to any person entitled thereto, under the workmen's compensation law and in the manner therein provided, the entire amount of any sum due, and all instalments thereof as they become due,

(1) To such person because of the obligation for compensation for any such injury imposed upon or accepted by this Employer under such of certain statutes, as may be applicable thereto, cited and described in an endorsement attached to this policy, each of which statutes is herein referred to as the workmen's compensation law, and

(2) For the benefit of such person the proper cost of whatever medical, surgical, nurse or hospital services, medical or surgical apparatus or appliances and medicines, or, in the event of fatal injury, whatever funeral expenses are required by the provisions of such workmen's compensation law.

It is agreed that all of the provisions of each workmen's compensation law covered hereby shall be and remain a part of this contract as fully and completely as if written herein, so far as they apply to compensation or other benefits for any personal injury or death covered by this policy, while this policy shall remain in force. Nothing herein contained shall operate to so extend this policy as to include within its terms any workmen's compensation law, scheme or plan not cited in an endorsement hereby attached.

One (b)—To Indemnify this Employer against any loss by reason of the liability imposed upon him by law for damages on account of such injuries to such of said employees as are legally employed wherever such injuries may be sustained within the territorial limits of the United States of America or the Dominion of Canada. In the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of this Employer the Company shall not be relieved from the payment of such indemnity hereunder as would have been payable but for such bankruptcy or insolvency. If, because of such bankruptcy or insolvency, an execution against the Employer is returned unsatisfied in an action brought by the injured, or by another person claiming by, through or under the injured, then an action may be maintained by the injured, or by such other person claiming by, through or under the injured, against the Company under the terms of this policy for the amount of the judgment in said action not exceeding the amount of this policy.

Two—To Serve this Employer (a) by the inspection of work places covered by the policy when and as deemed desirable by the Company and thereupon to suggest to this Employer such changes or improvements as may operate to reduce the number or severity of injuries during work, and, (b) upon notice of such injuries, by investigation thereof and by settlement of any resulting claims in accordance with law.

Three—To Defend, in the name and on behalf of this Employer, any suits or other proceedings which may at any time be instituted against him on account of such injuries, including suits or other proceedings alleging such injuries and demanding damages or compensation therefor, although such suits or other proceedings, allegations or demands are wholly groundless, false or fraudulent.

Four—To Pay all costs taxed against this Employer in any legal proceeding defended by the Company, all interest accruing after entry of judgment and all expenses incurred by the Company for its investigation, negotiation or defense.

Five—This agreement shall apply to such injuries sustained by any person or persons employed by this Employer whose entire remuneration shall be included in the total actual remuneration for which provision is hereinafter made, upon which remuneration the premium for this policy is to be computed and adjusted, and, also to such injuries so sustained by the President, any Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer of this Employer, if a corporation. The remuneration of any such designated officer shall not be subjected to a premium charge unless he is actually performing such duties as are ordinarily undertaken by a superintendent, foreman or workman.

Six—This agreement shall apply to such injuries so sustained by reason of the business operations described in said declarations, which, for the purpose of this insurance, shall include all operations necessary, incident or appurtenant thereto, or connected therewith, whether such operations are conducted at the work places defined and described in said declarations or elsewhere in connection with, or in relation to, such work places.

Seven—This agreement shall apply only to such injuries so sustained by reason of accidents occurring during the policy period limited and defined as such in Item 2 of said declarations.

The obligations of Paragraph One (a) of the policy to which this endorsement is attached include such Workmen's Compensation Laws as are herein cited and described and none other.

Chapter 816, Laws of 1913, as re-enacted by Chapter 41, Laws of 1914, and amended by Chapter 816, Laws of 1914, Chapters 167, 168, 616 and 674, Laws of 1915, Chapter 622, Laws of 1916, Chapter 705, Laws of 1917, Chapters 249, 638, 634 and 635, Laws of 1918, and Chapters 458, 488 and 629, Laws of 1919, State of New York, and all laws amendatory thereof which may become effective while this policy is in force.

This policy is issued by the Company and is accepted by this Employer with the agreement that the rates of premium are subject to modification in accordance with the rate manual and rating plans established by the Compensation Inspection Rating Board and approved by the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, such modification, if any, to be expressed by endorsement naming the effective date thereof.

THIS AGREEMENT IS SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:

A. The premium is based upon the entire remuneration earned, during the policy period, by all employees of this Employer engaged in the business operations described in said declarations, together with all operations necessary, incident or appurtenant thereto, or connected therewith, whether at such work places or elsewhere in connection therewith or in relation thereto; excepting, however, the remuneration of the President, any Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer of this Employer, if a corporation, but including the remuneration of any one or more of such designated officers who are actually performing such duties as are ordinarily undertaken by a superintendent, foreman or workman. If any operations as above defined are undertaken by this Employer but are not described or rated in said declarations, this Employer agrees to pay the premium thereon, at the time of the final adjustment of the premium in accordance with Condition C hereof, at the rates, and in compliance with the rules of the manual of rates in use by the Company upon the date of issue of this policy. At the end of the policy period the actual amount of the remuneration earned by employees during such period shall be exhibited to the Company, as provided in Condition C hereof, and the earned premium adjusted in accordance therewith at the rates and under the conditions herein specified. If the earned premium, thus computed, is greater than the advance premium paid, this Employer shall immediately pay the additional amount to the Company; if less, the Company shall return to this Employer the unearned portion, but in any event the Company shall retain the minimum premium stated in said declarations. All premiums provided by this policy, or by any endorsement hereon, shall be fully earned whether any such workmen's compensation law, or any part of such, is now or shall hereafter be declared invalid or unconstitutional.

B. This policy may be canceled at any time by either of the parties upon written notice to the other party stating when, not less than ten days thereafter, cancellation shall be effective. The effective date of such cancellation shall then be the end of the policy period. The law of any State, in which this policy applies, which requires that notice of cancellation shall be given to any board, commission or other State agency is hereby made a part of this policy and cancellation in such State shall not be effective except in compliance with such law. The remuneration of employees for the policy period stated in said declaration shall be computed upon the basis of the actual remuneration to the date of cancellation determined as herein provided. If such cancellation is at the Company's request, the earned premium shall be adjusted pro rata as provided in Condition A. If such cancellation is at this Employer's request, the earned premium shall be computed and adjusted at short rates, in accordance with the table printed hereon, but such short rate premium shall not be less than the minimum premium stated in said declarations. If this Employer when requesting cancellation is actually retiring from the business herein described, then the earned premium shall be computed and adjusted pro rata. Notice of cancellation shall be served upon this Employer as the law requires, but, if no different requirement, notice mailed to the address of this Employer herein given shall be a sufficient notice, and the check of the Company, similarly mailed, a sufficient tender of any unearned premium.

C. The Company shall be permitted, at all reasonable times during the policy period, to inspect the plants, works, machinery and appliances covered by this policy, and to examine this Employer's books at any time during the policy period, and any extension thereof, and within one year after its final expiration, so far as they relate to the remuneration earned by any employees of this Employer while this policy was in force.

D. The obligations of Paragraph One (a) foregoing are hereby declared to be the direct obligations and promises of the Company to any injured employee covered hereby, or, in the event of his death, to his dependents; and to each such employee or such dependent the Company is hereby made directly and primarily liable under said obligations and promises. This contract is made for the benefit of such employees or such dependents and is enforceable against the Company, by any such employee or such dependent in his name or on his behalf, at any time in any manner permitted by law, whether claims or proceedings are brought against the Company alone or jointly with this Employer. If the law of any State in which the policy is applicable provides for the enforcement of the rights of such employees or such dependents by any commission, board or other State agency for the benefit of such employees or such dependents, then the provisions of such law are made a part hereof, as respects any matter subject thereto, as fully as if written herein. The obligations and promises of the Company as set forth in this paragraph shall not be affected by the failure of this Employer to do or refrain from doing any act required by the policy; nor by any default of this Employer after the accident in the payment of premiums or in the giving of any notice required by the policy or otherwise; nor by the death, insolvency, bankruptcy, legal incapacity or inability of this Employer, nor by any proceeding against him as a result of which the conduct of this Employer's business may be and continue to be in charge of an executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, assignee, or other person.

E. As between the employee and the Company, notice to or knowledge of this Employer of an injury or death covered hereby shall be notice or knowledge as the case may be of the Company; the jurisdiction of this Employer for the purposes of any workmen's compensation law covered hereby shall be jurisdiction of the Company and the Company shall in all things be bound by and subject to the findings, judgments, awards, decrees, orders or decisions rendered against this Employer in the form and manner provided by such laws and within the terms, limitations and provisions of this policy, not inconsistent with such laws.

F. This Employer, upon the occurrence of an accident, shall give immediate written notice thereof to the Company with the fullest information obtainable. He shall give like notice with full particulars of any claim made on account of such accident. If, thereafter, any suit or other proceeding is instituted against this Employer, he shall immediately forward to the Company every summons, notice or other process served upon him. Nothing elsewhere contained in this policy shall relieve this Employer of his obligations to the Company with respect to notice as herein imposed upon him.

G. No action shall lie against the Company to recover upon any claim or for any loss under Paragraph One (b) foregoing unless brought after the amount of such claim or loss shall have been fixed and rendered certain either by final judgment against this Employer after trial of the issue or by agreement between the parties with the written consent of the Company, nor in any event unless brought within two years thereafter.

H. If the method of serving notice of cancellation, or the limit of time for notice of accident or for any legal proceeding herein contained is at variance with any specific statutory provision in relation thereto, in force in the State in which any of the business operations herein described are conducted, such specific statutory provision shall supersede any such condition in this policy inconsistent therewith.

I. No assignment of interest under this policy shall bind the Company unless the consent of the Company shall be endorsed hereon.

AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY

The automobile policy is a public liability policy which excludes accident to the policyholder and to his employees engaged in the care or operation of the assured's automobiles. It provides insurance against loss by reason of the legal liability of the named assured to others for bodily injuries accidentally sustained, including death at any time resulting therefrom, on account of an accident due to the ownership, maintenance or use of any automobile described in the policy, providing such accident occurs during the policy period and within the limits of the United States or Canada. The policy, however, excludes coverage if the accident occurs while the automobile is being operated in any race or speed contest, while being operated by anyone under the age of sixteen or under the age limit fixed by law or any liability assumed by the assured to pay workmen's compensation.

The premium for business or commercial cars is based upon the trade or business in which the car is used and upon the number of cars used, excepting that where five or more drivers are employed the policy may be written upon a payroll basis as in ordinary teams' insurance.

The premium for private or pleasure cars is calculated upon the list price of the car and its equipment, this plan of rating having been adopted in the Spring of 1919 as a remedial measure to overcome serious inconsistencies and defects in the horsepower rating plan previously in use.

The aggregate premium charged a private owner for automobile insurance upon cars used for pleasure purposes depends further, however, upon the number of cars owned and number of chauffeurs employed or drivers using the car, a reduction in premium rate being made where the owner alone drives the insured car, as compared with the risk in which any member of the assured's family or any other person with the permission of the named assured may drive the car.

The premium rates for automobile insurance vary further according to the location and physical environment in which the car is used, eight distinct rate schedules having been established and different sections of the country having been assigned to one of these eight rate schedules according to density of population and other factors affecting the hazard incident to the use of automobiles.

The automobile policy may be extended to cover what is known as property damage; this form of insurance protects the assured against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of damage to or destruction of property of any description, except property of the assured while in charge of the assured, or of any of the assured's employees, or while carried in or upon any of the automobiles insured, resulting from the ownership, maintenance or use of the insured automobile, excluding, however, damage or destruction by fire from any cause.

Property damage insurance is granted with or without coverage as respects loss of use of the property insured or destroyed, the premium rate being slightly increased for coverage as respects loss of use.

The usual limit of liability assumed by the insurance company with respect to property damage is $1000, but property damage claims quite frequently exceed this amount, one case being recorded where the property damage amounted to as much as $100,000. In this case a car skidded in turning a corner, struck a fire-plug and caused extensive water damage in a department store.

The property damage feature of automobile insurance is provided for by an endorsement which attaches to the automobile liability policy and is made a part thereof, and is therefore subject to the conditions and restrictions regarding use which the policy itself contains.

The automobile policy may also be extended by endorsement to cover what is known as collision insurance. This form of insurance protects the assured against loss or expense by reason of damage to the insured automobile if sustained during the period of the policy and within the limits of the United States or Canada, and caused solely by accidental collision with another object, excluding loss or damage caused directly or indirectly by fire, occurring while the automobile is being operated in any race or speed contest, or while operated by any person under sixteen years of age or under the age limit fixed by law; also excluding loss or damage to any tire due to puncture, crush, cut or blow-out or any other tire trouble, excluding in any event loss or damage to any tire unless caused in an accidental collision which also caused other loss or damage to the injured automobile.

Three forms of collision insurance are provided, known as non-deductible—$50 deductible and $100 deductible collision coverage. In the non-deductible form of coverage the insurance company assumes the entire liability. In the $50 deductible form there must be deducted from the amount of each claim for loss when determined $50, which amount the assured must bear, and the company becomes liable for any amount in excess thereof not exceeding the intrinsic value of the insured car at the time of collision, and in the $100 deductible form of coverage the assured assumes $100 of liability himself before the company becomes liable for any collision damage sustained.

The rates for automobile liability insurance and for property damage insurance may be found on page 84 of the 1921 Automobile Casualty Manual, and the rates for the different kinds of collision insurance may be found on pages 95 and 108 of the 1921 Manual.

Motorcycles, whether used for pleasure or business purposes, public vehicles, such as taxicabs, omnibuses and livery vehicles and cars used for demonstrating and testing purposes are specially rated, and policies are issued upon a payroll basis covering garages, sales agencies and service stations.

MANUFACTURERS' EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures manufacturers against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by an employee or employees of the assured while within the factory, shop or yards, or ways immediately adjacent thereto, and resulting from the business operations of the assured. The premium is based on the total estimated annual compensation of all employees, but it is permissible to exclude the salaries of executive officers not actually directing or superintending; the salaries of office and clerical force, if these employees are not to be covered by the policy; the wages of pieceworkers employed away from the premises, and the wages of drivers and drivers' helpers, if a concurrent teams' policy is carried. At the expiration of policy a statement must be rendered to the company by the assured, of the actual compensation earned by all employees covered by the policy, and if this amount exceeds the estimate upon which the policy was issued, the excess premium calculated at the rate named in the policy must be paid to the company. On the other hand, if this amount is less than the estimate, the company will refund to the assured the amount of such difference calculated in the same way, subject, however, to a minimum premium of $25.00 for every policy.

MANUFACTURERS' PUBLIC LIABILITY.

This form of policy applies to persons other than the employees of the assured, but in all other respects is identical with the Manufacturers' Employers' Liability contract.

CONTRACTORS' EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures contractors, builders, electric light and power companies, telegraph and telephone and mining companies against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by an employee or employees of the assured at the location where work is being done or business operations carried on, and resulting from said work or business operations of the assured. The premium is calculated and adjusted substantially in the same way as for Manufacturers' Employers' Liability, subject to a minimum premium of $50.00 for each policy.

CONTRACTORS' PUBLIC LIABILITY.

This form of policy applies to persons other than the employees of the assured, but in every other respect is identical with the provisions of the Contractors' Employers' Liability contract.

OWNERS', LANDLORDS' AND TENANTS' LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures owners, lessees or tenants of premises (not manufacturers) against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured while within the premises, or upon the sidewalks or approaches immediately adjacent thereto, and resulting from the business operations of the assured. The premium is based upon the total area and frontage of the premises, and upon the number and kind of elevators to be insured. This form of policy is adapted to the use of apartment houses, cemeteries, churches, clubs, hotels, office buildings, private dwellings, public libraries, public museums and picture galleries, restaurants, retail stores, sidewalks used by hucksters, tenements, vacant land, wharf and water-front property, wholesale stores and wholesale and retail stores.

TEAMS' LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures the owners or users of horses and vehicles against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured by means of the use of such horses or vehicles in the business operations of the assured. The premium is based upon the number of vehicles in use, which is determined by the number of drivers employed, by calculating from the total pay roll of drivers the average wages per driver. The adjustment of premium at expiration is made in the same manner as for Manufacturers' Employers' Liability.

The premium for vehicles adapted for private use only is based upon the number of such vehicles driven by the assured or any employee. If the policy is to be extended to cover vehicles while in charge of members of the assured's family the premium is based upon the number of horses owned, in place of upon the number of vehicles.

ELEVATOR LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures owners or users of elevators against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured while in the elevator car, or while entering upon or alighting therefrom, or caused by the machinery or appliances connected with the elevator. The premium is based on the number and type of elevators to be insured, whether passenger or freight, sidewalk, one-story, factory, hand hoist, private house, escalator or sidewalk chute.

VESSEL EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures vessel and shipowners against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by an employee or employees of the assured while on or about the vessels or on the ways immediately thereto, and resulting from the business operations of the assured. The premium is based on the total compensation earned by the crew, and is calculated and adjusted in the same manner as for Manufacturers' Employers' Liability. If the hazard of collision is to be included under the policy, an endorsement covering this feature must be attached, for which an additional charge is made. Vessel liability policies are adapted for use of ferry companies, fishing vessels, great lakes, ocean and coastwise steamers, river and sound steamers, sailing vessels and tugboats—towing, and water boats, supplying water for shipping.

VESSEL PUBLIC LIABILITY.

This form of policy applies to persons other than employees, excluding passengers, but in every other respect is identical with the Vessel Employers' Liability contract. An additional charge is made on this policy also for protection against the hazard of collision.

THEATRE LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures owners, lessees or tenants of theatres, music halls and other places of amusement or entertainment against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured while within the premises or upon the sidewalks or other ways immediately adjacent thereto. The premium is based upon the total seating capacity in the case of theatres, opera houses and music halls, and upon the total gate receipts in the case of horse shows, dog shows, bicycle shows, automobile shows, agriculture or horticultural shows and baseball grounds.

OWNERS' PROTECTIVE OR CONTINGENT LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures owners of buildings in course of construction against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured during the continuance of the work, and resulting from the negligence of any contractor or sub-contractor engaged in the work. The premium is based on the estimated total cost of the work, and is adjusted at expiration of policy according as such actual cost is greater or less than the estimated cost.

CONTRACTORS' PROTECTIVE OR CONTINGENT LIABILITY.

This form of policy insures contractors for buildings in course of construction against loss or expense by reason of the liability imposed by law for damages on account of bodily injuries, including death, accidentally suffered by any person or persons not employed by the assured during the continuance of the work, and resulting from the negligence of any sub-contractor engaged in doing a part of the work. The premium is based upon a percentage of the estimated cost of the work, less the compensation earned by the em-employees of the assured. If the assured does no part of the work, the premium is estimated upon the total cost of the work. In either case the adjustment of premium is made as under Owners' Protective or Contingent Liability.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

This form of policy insures the liability and agrees to pay the compensation and the medical, surgical and hospital expenses and medicines provided for by the Workmen's Compensation Act of the State where the business operations of the assured are carried on. The insurance granted under the policy is unlimited in amount as now required by the compensation law in practically every State. The premium is based upon the total estimated remuneration paid to all employees of the assured, and is adjusted at expiration according to whether said estimate is greater or less than the actual remuneration paid. The compensation law of most States requires the insurance company to assume the cost of medical, surgical and hospital expenses payable to injured employees under the act, but in a few States, notably in New York, the employer is permitted to provide this service independently of the insurance company, and in such cases a discount, ranging from 10 per cent to 20 per cent of the premium, is allowed to the assured, and the policy is endorsed to exclude the payment of all such expenses.

PERSONAL ACCIDENT.

This form of policy insures against loss of life, limb, sight and time, and covers bodily injuries suffered by the assured through external, violent and accidental means, and provides for the payment of the principal sum in case of death, loss of both hands or both feet, or one hand and one foot, or the sight of both eyes, and proportionate parts of the principal sum for the loss of one hand or of one foot, or the sight of one eye; also for the payment of double principal sum if such injuries are sustained while riding as a passenger in or on a public conveyance provided by a common carrier, or while in a passenger elevator, or in consequence of the burning of a building while the assured is therein, or in consequence of the collapse of the outer walls of a building while the assured is therein. For temporary disability the full weekly indemnity is paid during the period of total disability, and a proportion of weekly indemnity is paid during the period of partial disability, depending upon the extent of the disability. The policy also provides for payment in case of sunstroke, freezing, hydrophobia, asphyxiation or blood poisoning; for hospital expenses for a limited period; for surgeon's fees in case of specified operations; for optional fixed indemnity payable in lieu of weekly indemnity for specified injuries; for payment of medical or surgical expenses for a limited period in cases where no disability results from the accident, and for the accumulation of the principal sum insured until same amounts to fifty per cent thereof.

DISABILITY.

This form of policy provides the same benefits as the accident policy above referred to, and in addition pays one-half of the principal sum for blindness or paralysis resulting from sickness. The policy also pays full weekly indemnity for the period of total disability resulting from disease or sickness during the period that the assured was confined to the house, and following this period one-half of the weekly indemnity is paid during the period of total disability and non-confinement to the house. Payment is also made for surgeon's fees for operations on account of specified diseases in addition to specified injuries.

STEAM BOILER.

This form of policy covers all direct loss or damage to the property of the assured to the property of others; also loss of life or personal injuries to any person caused by the explosion, collapse or rupture of a boiler due to steam pressure. The policy may also be extended to cover loss of total profits or income, due to the total or partial destruction of the premises or plant as the result of the explosion, collapse or rupture of any boiler whereby the business of the assured is entirely suspended or materially affected. The premium is based upon the number of boilers insured and the amount of insurance per boiler for any one loss, as well as for total insurance under the policy.

FLY-WHEEL.

This form of policy covers all direct loss or damage to the property of the assured and to the property of others, as well as loss of life or bodily injuries to any person caused by the explosion, bursting or breaking of a fly-wheel or other wheel injured. The policy may also be extended to cover loss of total profits or income due to total or partial destruction of the premises or plant as result of the explosion, bursting or breaking of any fly-wheel, or other wheel, whereby the business of the assured is entirely suspended or materially affected.

USE AND OCCUPANCY.

This form of insurance is generally written under three headings, namely, manufacturers, mercantile and rental. The first covers factories; the second, wholesale and retail stores, and the third, buildings owned by the assured but rented to others. The contracts provide that if the buildings, plant or machinery are so damaged by explosion as to entirely or partially destroy the premises or machinery, or prevent the continuance of business, the company will pay for the actual loss sustained not exceeding a stipulated sum per day for each working day of such prevention. Loss is computed from the date of occurrence of the accident to the time when the normal resumption of business operations can take place.

PLATE GLASS.

This form of policy insures against loss or damage by breakage of glass as the result of accident and due to causes beyond the control of the assured. The loss is estimated according to the value of the glass at the time of breakage, and the company may pay the actual value of the glass broken or replace the glass as it may elect. The policy does not cover loss or damage resulting from fire, earthquake, inundation, insurrection, riot nor any military or usurped power; nor from the legal blowing up of buildings, nor from work of construction, alterations or repairs to buildings. The premium is based upon the number of plates and location and description of glass, and an additional premium is charged for all clamped or glued, bent, art or ornamental glass.

BURGLARY, THEFT AND LARCENY.

Residence burglary and theft policy covers direct loss by burglary, theft or larceny of any of the property of the assured occasioned by its felonious abstraction from the interior of the house, building or apartment occupied by the assured; by any domestic servant or other employee of the assured, or by any other person or persons excepting any person whose property is insured; also against direct loss by damage to such property and to said premises caused by burglars or thieves. The policy covers property belonging to any permanent member of the household who does not pay board or rent, except domestic servants or other employees. The policy does not cover property of servants or employees or during any period of non-occupancy after a total of four months in any one year, unless permitted by endorsement; but in no such event is any loss covered in excess of $100 for jewelry, precious stones or watches occurring during any period of unoccupancy exceeding eighty-four consecutive hours. The policy does not cover loss of money or any plan, pattern, model, document or any one book or manuscript in excess of $50, unless specifically insured; nor loss due to explosives, fire or water, invasion, riot or war, the action of the elements, nor loss in excess of the actual cash value of the property taken or damaged.

Mercantile burglary policy insures against direct loss by burglary of merchandise occasioned from its felonious abstraction from the premises occupied by the assured by any person or persons who shall have made entry into the premises during the day or night by the use of actual force and violence, of which there are visible marks upon the premises; also for direct loss by damage to the merchandise, furniture, fixtures or premises caused by such entry or exit.

Mercantile safe policy covers direct loss by burglary of money, postoffice and revenue stamps, bullion, negotiable securities, drafts and promissory notes and merchandise, in consequence of the felonious abstraction of the same by burglars from the safe or safes after entry into the same by the use of tools or explosives; also for direct loss by damage to said merchandise, or to said safe or safes, or to the furniture, fixtures or premises caused by such entry.

Combination messenger, paymaster and interior hold-up and safe burglary policy covers direct loss by robbery of money, bullion, postoffice and revenue stamps, checks, negotiable securities, coupons, bills of exchange, drafts and notes, express, bank and postoffice money orders, watches, jewelry and other merchandise from the care or custody of any employee of the assured while acting as messenger or paymaster, and while conveying the same to or from the place or places directed by the assured; also for direct loss by robbery of any of the property above described, feloniously, violently and forcibly abstracted from within the premises of the assured; for direct loss by robbery, by force or by violence, of money intended for payrolls only from the person, care or custody of any employee of the assured while acting as messenger or paymaster, or while conveying the same to and from such places as directed by the assured; also for direct loss by robbery of any of the property above described from the safe or safes located on the premises of the assured by any person or persons who shall have made entry into such safe or safes by the use of tools or explosives; also for direct loss or damage to said property or said safe or safes or to the furniture, fixtures or premises caused by such entry.

SPRINKLER LEAKAGE.

This form of policy covers loss or damage to the property of the assured or to the property of others, held in trust or on commission, or sold but not delivered, due to the accidental discharge or leakage of water from the sprinkler system from any cause, except fire, war or riot, earthquake, storms or cyclones, explosions or blasting, or collapse of the building. The premium is computed upon the amount of insurance, and the rate varies with the class of merchandise insured as well as with the physical hazard of the risk.

CREDIT.

This form of policy covers loss from uncollected accounts, and is a special contract made up to meet the requirements of each individual case. Every policy provides for a minimum amount to be assumed by the assured known as "own loss," or some other similar term, whereby such amount is deducted from every loss sustained before the company is liable under the policy. The rate of premium varies with the class of business, the financial standing and business reputation of the assured, and the amount of indemnity provided by the policy.

APPENDIX

DIRECTORY OF INSURANCE AGENTS

IT DIDN'T "JUST HAPPEN"

The $110,000,000.00 of New Business written by the Missouri State Life Field Men in 1920 is the result of several very well defined causes, a few of which are given below. This great achievement was made possible

THRU

- Liberal and Adaptable Policy Contracts—both non-participating and participating.
- Provisions for Sub-Standard Risks.
- Extension of Limit on one Life to $300,000.
- Group Department. Home Office Specialists assist the Agent.
- Sales Service Department.
- Liberal Contracts to Agents.

A 1921 Forward Step—Accident and Health Department.

There is Room in our Expansion Program for Well Equipped Leaders. Negotiations Invited.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED in entering the life insurance business, there are several reasons why you should investigate what the New York Life Insurance Company offers to its fieldmen.

A New York Life fieldman works under a direct contract with the Home Office. No general agents are employed.

2.

Under the New York Life's system of field compensation, an agent has the opportunity of qualifying in "Nylic", which provides, among other things, a pension for life after twenty years' service under very reasonable requirements.

3.

The New York Life Insurance Company is one of the greatest life insurance companies in the world. It writes not only standard insurance, but also substandard insurance, thus largely increasing the agent's field of usefulness and opportunity to make money.

Let us hear from you, using the blank below.

We are able to immediately cover large amounts on desirable risks irrespective of other amounts on the same properties obtained through other channels.

For more than thirty years we have conducted this department of business with European and American offices and our facilities are unequalled.

There never is trouble, vexation, or delay in the adjustment of losses when forms have been drawn and risks have been placed through our office.

MEDICAL EXAMINERS

SPECIALLY QUALIFIED TO HANDLE INSURANCE CASES.

We take pleasure in presenting the following List of Physicians, each of whom can be recommended as being a competent examiner for insurance companies. Companies not having their own examiner in any of the localities mentioned will find it worth while to communicate with any name mentioned in the following list, according to the locality which it may be desired to cover:

The publishers desire to give credit to The Industrial Review of Chicago, and also to the American Association of Medical Examiners for names produced in the following pages:

ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS

SPECIALY QUALIFIED TO HANDLE INSURANCE CASES.

It is a well-known fact that few lawyers are competent to properly handle an insurance case without a special knowledge of the business, however skillful they may be as general practitioners. We have requested from a large number of well-known underwriters the names of attorneys whom they have found to be competent and satisfactory in the conduct of cases placed in their charge. The following list is made up of the names thus voluntarily given, together with a few others who have given special attention to insurance law:

STAYING POWER!

"The business that pays is the business that stays!"—particularly during the present period of financial depression and readjustment.

To renew year after year, Life Insurance must not only have been well sold in the beginning, but must possess qualities which will constantly resell it to the policyholder. The most important of these qualities are Service and Low Net Cost because they make purchasers into satisfied policyholders.

Union Central Building

The high renewing power of the business, on account of unique Union Central Service and a long maintained record for low net cost, yields a constant advantage to the Union Central agent.
